

School 1 Newsletter

Dear Parents,

This week in School 1 the children have been looking at the Importance of Truthfulness. They have discussed what it means to be truthful, how they can be truthful and why we need truthfulness in our lives. It has been a very interesting and honest week. The children have shown their ability to understand truthfulness at their own level, and recognise the difference between truth and lies.

Truly, well done Everyone!

Communication

To ensure we maintain excellent levels of communication between Home and School, I would like to remind you about the process within school and how you can help.

Firstly, if you have questions about something related to your child's education or you need to inform the school about alterations to your child's normal routines please contact the class teachers, via their school email addresses, Class Dojo (which has translation available) or Google Classroom. Please be mindful that teachers can only respond during normal working hours whilst not teaching and when it is convenient for them. However, you can provide information at your own convenience.

However, if it is urgent, you can call the school and inform Mrs. Anna during office hours, who will then speak with the teachers directly. At which time the teachers will contact you when they have an opportunity. Likewise, teachers will contact you with updates, letters and if there is important information you require.

Morning Routines

Thank you for continuing to adhere to the allocated arrival times and using the correct gates. Please be reminded that whilst the children's temperatures are being checked you are required to wait until indicated that everything is normal. If another adult brings your child to school please ensure they are also aware of this protocol and they wait until they receive a signal that your child has been checked and all is satisfactory.

Clothing

As part of the child development process to build independence and confidence we encourage the children to dress themselves independently between transitions and in preparation for certain activities. We always check the children to ensure they are dressed appropriately and ready for their activities. To support this development we ask that you also provide similar opportunities and encourage your child with these tasks.

Finally, to help with the identification of your child's school uniform we ask that you please label your child's clothes clearly. This helps to reduce unnecessary stress when children cannot find their belongings.
